TAMMY HOWL

GULF PARK'S FIRST FAMILY

President and Mrs. William T. Sadler with their three sons, George, 12 years old; Edward, 9 years; and William, Jr., 14 years. President Sadler was inaugurated as the sixth president of Gulf Park on February 1, 1966.

Good

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Terminating months of searching for the best qualified President, Gulf Park proudly welcomes back Mr. William T. Sadler. President Sadler is by no means a stranger on the Gulf Park campus. Past experience as a faculty member and Academic Dean for fifteen years under three past Presidents, as well as dedication to Gulf Park certainly qualifies him for the position. Mrs. Sadler's previous service at Gulf Park as both faculty member and Secretary to Admissions provides her background for her most important supporting role. In 1962 Sadler felt the urge to again assume the role of student advisor. For the past three years he, his wife, Elizabeth, and their three sons, Billy, George and Edward have resided in Tallahassee, Florida State University. The Sadlers' return to GulfPark was anxiously received by the family as well as by the students and faculty of Gulf Park.

Accompanying President Sadler are scores of plans and ideas for the improvement and advancement of Gulf Park. Of course, all cannot be accomplished in one week, one month or even one year. Academically speaking, Gulf Park will one day in the near future be considered the best Junior College in the South. Rigid qualifications for our teachers, accompanied by increased salaries, will assure top quality instruction. Increased frequency of faculty meetings with a definite Code of Ethics will provide the conscientious faculty that an institution such as Gulf Park deems most important. Modern devices of teaching such as language labs, and the extensive use of audio-visual aids will certainly guarantee our courses to be of supreme quality.

President Sadler considers a close relationship with the students of utmost importance. Presently a committee of students and counselors are examining and evaluating the rules of Gulf Park. After carefully considering each rule, suggestions for modifications and additions will be made. Periodic revisions will become a practice. President Sadler feels that such a practice is necessary to meet changing times.

Campus improvements are, of course, on President Sadler's agenda. The air-conditioning of Hardy Hall is forecast for the very near future.

I feel certain that I can express the anxiety and pleasure of every member of the student body, faculty and administration in saying, "We sincerely welcome you, President Sadler." The days, months and years to come will prove our loyalty to you!

GULF PARK'S BEST DRESSED

Under the sponsorship of the Tides, we participated in Glamour Magazine's "Ten Best-Dressed College Girls" Contest. A committee of student leaders selected a Best-Dressed Girl of the Week for each of seven weeks. Pictured above are Cathy Weeks, Barbara Jones, Brenda Hayes, Carolyn Ashworth, Susan Early, Karleen Presley, and Candi Cates. The student body voted to select the girl who would be our

THE NATCHEZ PILGRIMAGE

Sighs of admiration were expressed by the 80 Gulf Park girls who participated in the annual Natchez Pilgrimage. On the weekend of March 5-7 two bus loads of students and three chaperons relived the glamour of antebellum days. The mood was set Saturday night when the girls entertained at the Confederate Pageant, where a series of tableaux were presented depicting scenes from the old South. Hoopskirts, fox hunts and a May pole contributed to the colorful display that brought everyone near tears as the pageant ended with the singing of "Dixie."

Sunday was spent touring the stately old homes surrounding Natchez. Most of the homes are still occupied by descendants of the original families and each season these gracious owners open them to the public. At "Elgin Plantation," a glimpse of country living was presented in contrast to "Stanton Hall," a magnificent town house. Of particular interest was "The Parsonage," where Scarlet O'Hara's bed used in filming "Gone With the Wind" was on display. At "The Briers" the girls stood in the same room where Jefferson Davis was married.

Sunday night the tour enjoyed the play, "Southern Exposure," a satire on the Natchez Pilgrimage.

Returning to Gulf Park by way of Baton Rouge, gave the Gulf Park girls a chance to visit Louisiana's state capitol. Led by Dr. Cooke, the girls were invited into the Governor's office for an informal talk on the capitol's history. It was agreed that the 1966 Pilgrimage was a huge success.

A HOT DAY IN GULFPORT

As I sat in Albright and Wood, ingesting my diet coke on that doomed December day, an unfamiliar scent penetrated my nostrils. Interrogating the source of this odd odor, I turned to observe the kitchen behind me being absorbed in smoky flames.

Naturally, this resulted in a mass hysterical exodus as customers and employees raced for the door. I, being a noble soul, stood very serenely at the cash register during the climax of the chaos, awaiting the exchange of my dime for one now non-existant diet coke. My honest intentions were thwarted, however, as a whailing waitress screeched the words, "Leave you fool. Can't you see we're burning up? It's on the house, you idiot!" After this rebuke, and a noticeable increase in temperature, I felt it was high time that I departed.

In a cab crammed with several of my schoolmates, the deafening approach of several screeching sirens could be heard, and the sight of some of our favorite stores could be seen billowing with smoke. The Purple Lantern, Singer Sewing Machine, Elmer's Clothing Store, and Busch's Jewelers were all damaged, yet some stock was salvaged and temporary locations were found.

In a tone lacking humor, I must add that much costly damage was done, valuable stock destroyed and employees left jobless, resulting in a cold Christmas for some, I'm sure.

SPRING FASHION REVUE

On Thursday evening, January 13, Gulf Park held its annual Spring Fashion Revue. Each year the Gulf Park Secretarial Science Club presents this revue showing the latest fashions in street dresses, casuals, sports wear, suits, cocktail dresses and formal wear. The show is sponsored by various merchants of Gulfport and New Orleans.

The theme, TICK TOCK, was carried out in several ways. The 64 models were attired to represent different occasions — Ticket Time, Terrace Time, Town Time, Tally Time, Time for Toil, and Time for Two.

The models, students of Gulf Park, were chosen by several merchants of Gulfport. The girls were judged on size, poise, composure, style, etc. As showtime approached, the models were kept busy developing their style by spending many nights walking and pivoting in the auditorium. To keep their trim figures many crash diets were attempted by the girls.

The climax of the fashion revue was the announcement of Miss Gulf Park which was presented to Miss Judy Oliver of Boca Raton, Florida. Miss Gulf Park is elected annually by secret ballot of the student body and is the highest honor awarded to a student of Gulf Park. Judy is also active in other school activities, serving as vice-president of the Student Council, president of the Practical Arts Club, chairman of the Judiciary Board, a member of Theta Alpha and a member of the May Court.

SORORITY SING

On February 17, at 7:30 p. m., the annual Sorority Sing got underway with a bang. Our Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Nels Anderson.

Three Gulfport residents served as judges for the song competition. Each of the six sororities on campus presented two groups. A large group, consisting of all the girls in that particular sorority, and a small group of a select number with excellent voices.

Delta Alpha Sigma opened with "Who Will Buy," from the Broadway production Oliver. The girls were decked-out in green knickers with multi-colored suspenders. Their second selection was sung in the English brogue, called "I'd Do Anything."

Delta Chi chose two Beatle songs, "All My Lovin'," and "Michelle." Each girl wore a blue skirt and blouse with vertical and horizontal stripes. On their feet were the ever popular rah-rahs.

The third group to sing was Gamma Psi. Black and white outfits were chosen. The first selection was "It's a Grand Night for Singing," followed by "Getting To Know You."

Hawaii anyone? Kappa Chi gaily dressed in Hawaiian moo-moos, sang "Bali Hai," and "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Guy," both from South Pacific.

White dresses with red corsages stood out vividly as Sigma Psi Iota stood in a heart formation to sing "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," and "When I Fall in Love."

Theta Alpha, wearing blue and tan rain coats, sang "Pennies from Heaven," and "Let a Smile Be Your Umbrella."

A five minute intermission followed the presentation of the large groups. Tension mounted. Who would win?

Delta Alpha re-appeared with their small group to sing "Where Is Love?" Delta Chi sang "Yesterday," one of the Beatles' popular versions.

Gamma Psi sang "Chim-Chim-Chere" from Mary Poppins. Each

girl's face was covered with soot, and in the background were chimneys and brooms.

Kappa Chi, dressed in yellow and red shifts, and accompanied by bongos and guitar, sing "Jamaica."

Sigma Psi, in pale pink dresses, sang "Tonight" from West Side Story.

With red umbrellas, Theta Alpha sang "Singing in the Rain."

While waiting for the judges' decision, some of our campus favorites, Jeen Henderson, Zoey Zook and Pat Grayson, entertained us with a few impromptu songs.

Finally Mr. Anderson appeared with the final decision. Among the large groups, third place went to Delta Alpha, second to Kappa Chi, and first to Gamma Psi. Then the small groups were announced. As Mr. Anderson said, "it certainly looks familiar." Third place to Delta Alpha, second to Kappa Chi, and first to Gamma Psi.

The trophies were presented by Mr. Anderson to Gamma Psi's president Mary Maloy and song leader Patti Pranke. Gamma Psi members were certainly proud of their double victory. All in all, the evening was delightful with all six sororities doing a fine job.

You Never Can Tell, or can you? The audiences who attended the performances of You Never Can Tell by George Bernard Shaw could tell that this pleasant play was well presented by the Gulf Park players.

This four-act comedy is a satirization of man's position in society as compared to that of the woman.

Opening the show in a high-spirited fashion was Suzi Sickel, who portrayed Dolly Clandor. Suzi's role wos that of a lively eighteen year old twin, who was in love with love. Dolly's older, sophisticated sister, Gloria, was played by Bev Root. Striving to carry on her mother's fight for woman's rights, Gloria fought to conceal her love for Valentine the dentist. The part of the stubborn mother, Mrs. Clandon, was portrayed by Sheila Hays. Other Gulf Park girls, Jess Diks, Susan Hougland, and Diane Oliver had supporting roles in the play.

The production staff was headed by Miss Helen Picking, who directed the play. Mr. Nels Anderson served as scene designer and technical director. Nancy Wells, as student director, and Mary Ensign Jones as stage manager, also handled their duties well.

Through the hard work of Jet Maskers, You Never Can Tell was a delightful success.

MARDI GRAS

The long awaited Mardi Gras season was celebrated in high spirits by the Gulf Park girls. We were all proud that Sidney Jones, an Elizabeth Hall junior from New Orleans, was honored by being chosen Queen of the Knights of Babylon Ball and Parade. As a gracious queen she dazzled the students by modeling her imported pink peau de soie gown which was fashioned along semi-princess lines and heavily embroidered in rhinestones.

Various arrangements were made by the college for groups of chaperoned students to participate in the festivities. Early Mardi Gras morning seventy-five girls piled into two chartered busses and made their way into the throbbing carnival city. Serving as headquarters for the group was a room in the Roosevelt Hotel rented by the school. Here the girls rested after viewing the parades of Comus and Rex. Most of the students agreed, however, that the most exciting experience of the day was observing the colorful costumes of the revelers and mixing with a crowd of jubilant people gathered together from all over the country to celebrate "Fat Tuesday."

Tuesday night another busload of dignified Gulf Park girls attended the stately balls of Comus and Rex. The girls admired the exquisite gowns worn by the Kings and Queens and their courts and were impressed with the presentation of Lynda Bird Johnson, George Hamilton III, and other dignitaries. The highlight of the evening was the call-outs to dance received by several of the students. All the girls who attended Mardi Gras this year were deeply impressed, declaring it an unforgetable experience.

KAPPA CHI ROLLS TO VICTORY

Debbie Barr, Betty Estes, Suzie Graf, and Toni Herrick bowled their sorority right into the winner circle, January 31, during the annual sorority Bowling Tournament. Not only did Kappa Chi have the most accumulative points for the three games, but a member of their team bowled the high game and the high series of the day. Betty Estes threw a 198 game, and collected 495 points for all three of her games. Congratulations to Kappa Chi!!!

The five sororities put up a good fight — beating them was not easy. Delta Alpha took second place, with Linda Sparks bowling a 437 series, which was the high series in her sorority.

The tournament took place at the Gulfport Triangle Lanes, and the trophies were furnished by Mr. Tom Cook. The afternoon was enjoyed not only by participants but also by the numerous Gulf Park spectators cheering their respective sororities on to victory.

CHRISTMAS AT GULF PARK

The sounds of "Merry Christmas" echoed over the campus of Gulf Park the week before Christmas holidays began. Instead of snow, rain fell causing Gulf Park to have a wet Christmas, but no one's spirits were dampened by the precipitation. Light-weight sweaters and raincoats constituted Gulf Park girls' attire, rather than the traditional Christmas garb of heavy coats, gloves, and mufflers. Yet Christmas at G. P. C. was cheery and merry. The happiness displayed by the students and teachers preparing to embark home to their families shone brightly in each one's eyes. This genuine spirit was reflected in the success of all student activities presented during the week before our vacation began. Although suitcases had to be packed, gifts for friends must be bought, tickets must be secured for that flight home, and some time must be spent on those last minute tests, girls participated in a gay round of events. The annual Christmas Formal sponsored by the Panhellenic Council initiated the festivities on Saturday, December 11. As the girls and their dates entered the gaily bedecked auditorium, filled with red Christmas stockings and mistletoe balls, they were greeted by each of the six sorority presidents. Feeling as though "I could have danced all night" everyone danced until twelve to the music of a popular band.

On towards midnight Sunday night, sleepy-heads were awakened by strains of "Jingle Bells" as Student Council members marched through the dorms. Pajama clad Gulf Park girls with half-closed eyes ventured to the Hardy Hall reception room where they were greeted by the late night smiles of welcome on the faces of the Student Council officers and representatives. The first of its kind, this casual get-together of girls proved to be a success and inspired companionship as all sat around the warm glowing fire to sing Christmas carols. Hot chocolate, cookies, and friendly gab concluded the event. Everyone returned to their rooms, thinking of the visions of sugar plums and Santa Claus soon to come!

Also held in the college auditorium was the impressive Glee Club concert. Several beautiful Christmas tunes were sung by the choral group. As the girls sang "Little Drummer Boy" and "Hark, Hear the Bells," members of the Dance League dramatically portrayed the meanings of the songs. After the concert, the Glee Club also played a part in the formal Christmas banquet. Entering the dining room, each girl carried a lighted candle and sang as she walked to her table. Of course, the dinner was delicious and afterwards the traditional recognition of college dining room workers was given by Dr. Richard Cox.

During the week parties were numerous. Nearly all campus clubs entertained their members and guests. These ranged from an informal get together in the Y-Hut given by the Bit and Spur Club to a Sunday dress occasion in Hardy Hall reception room by the Practical Arts Club. Each member brought a Christmas gift which would be distributed to needy children in the Gulfport area. All the dormitories had parties before the students left on Saturday, December 18. At the conclusion of the week surely every Gulf Park girl felt the presence of the Yuletide season and had learned the satisfaction of sharing.

FINALS AND DANCE

January 17th brought with it the beginning of exam week at Gulf Park. Student Council proclaimed it "Dead Week," meaning that no one could make any loud noise, play radios, or watch television, in consideration of those who were studying for their final tests for the semester.

Styles and habits also changed for the week. For instance, straight hair became the new look, due to the fact that the students didn't have or take the time to put their hair up. Many rooms had lights burning all night as the students within them kept their vigil watch at typewriters or at their desks. A coffee pot became a treasured item in the dorms, and the aroma of its content filled the halls. Everyone became devoted to their books and notes with the hope that some of the facts and figures would stick in their minds. It was a memorable week, not only in that sense, but because all the students profited by it when the tests came.

Monday, the 17th, was the day for all English exams. Tuesday, all students taking a foreign language were tested. The exams in the history department were given on Wednesday. Psychology tests were given to the students in that course on Thursday. Music and science exams were taken on Friday, and Saturday, the final day of exam week, was devoted to sociology.

Somehow, everyone survived, and Saturday night, the 21st of January, ended "Dead Week" with a casual Western dance held in the auditorium. Some of the students entertained with folk songs, followed by a dance band, which the students and their dates enjoyed.

When the evening had ended, and all were in their rooms preparing for a restful sleep, it seemed to everyone that exam week hadn't been so bad after all.

SCHOOLING HORSE SHOW

Excitement filled the air on the afternoon of February 7, as students and administration gathered to view the equestrian talents of their classmates in the Gulf Park Schooling Horse Show. Sponsored by the Bit and Spur Club and directed by Miss Janet Nelson, the riding instructor, the show proved to be fun as well as providing instructive experience for the students. Ribbons designed by the club members were presented to the winners of the first thru fourth place. ALUMNAE

President's Message To Alumnae

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to you, the Alumnae of Gulf Park College, for the many encouraging letters and calls which we have received from you upon our return. Please let us assure you that we will do everything possible to justify the confidence expressed in these messages.

In my first address to the student body and faculty, I emphasized that my primary aim is to make our College the outstanding junior college of the nation — not just an outstanding junior college for women. An important move in this direction was made by the appointment of Mr. Robert Johnson to the position of Dean of the College on April 1. Dean Johnson has had seventeen years of junior college experience, and has known and admired Gulf Park and its students through these years; he shares our enthusiasm in the desire to make Gulf Park an institution without compare.

The following steps have already been taken to increase the stature of your Alma Mater: the Board of Trustees has approved a new salary schedule for the faculty; an audio-visual classroom has been opened; a dance studio has been created; and a riding ring and game courts on back campus have been constructed.

What next? We have preliminary plans for a new library and we project a new auditorium, an additional classroom building to include a new science laboratory, a new dormitory to bring the total enrollment to 400, a language laboratory, a new stable, air-conditioning for Hardy Hall and carpeting in the hallways of the classroom buildings.

Many of the above projections must be accomplished in a short period of time if we are to achieve the excellence which we propose. An amalgamation of efforts from every segment of the academic community — trustees, administration, faculty, and students — will be required. In addition to this, and of equal importance, will be the contributions from you, the Alumnae. Certainly we need your financial support (contributions are tax deductible), but we also need your moral support, suggestions and criticisms.

Please know that a warm welcome will always be extended when you have the chance to visit your Alma Mater.

William T. Sadler
President
GULF PARK COLLEGE

JAN CLAYTON TO SERVE AS COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Jan Clayton, '37, has accepted the invitation of President Sadler to serve as the featured speaker at the Commencement Exercises at Gulf Park to be held Sunday evening, May 29. She is the first alumna to be honored by such an invitation, and she is thrilled beyond words to be able to return to the campus that has meant so much to her.

Early in her career, Jan stated, "Whatever success is mine will be the direct result of my schooling in the Theatre Workshop at Gulf Park, one of the best institutions of its kind in the United States. Without the background I acquired at Gulf Park, I doubt if I ever would have gained a foothold in motion pictures."

Although Jan began her acting career in the movies, she has had a very full and rewarding career in the legitimate theatre. She opened as Julie in "Carousel" on Broadway. Other appearances in the legitimate theatre include "Show Boat," "The King and I," "Rose Marie," "Music in the Air," "Guys and Dolls," "Auntie Mame," "South Pacific," "Majority of One," "The Best Man," "Kiss Me, Kate," "Once More with Feeling," "and "Marriage Go Round." In TV work, for four years Jan played the mother in "Lassie." She has made special appearances on "Wagon Train," "Gun Smoke," "The Millionaire," "The Danny Thomas Show," "Welles Fargo," and "Daktari." She was chosen by the State Department as one of the representatives of the American Theatre to appear at the Brussels World's Fair.

In recent years, much of Jan's time has been devoted to the rearing of her five children. In 1957, she was honored as "The Mother of the Year" in Los Angeles.

Jan is anxious for many of her classmates to join her at Gulf Park during the Commencement season. She plans to arrive on the Coast on Friday, May 27, in order to be able to attend all of the events scheduled for that period. At present, she is with her mother in Tularosa, New Mexico, following the death of her father earlier this year.

CLASS REUNIONS AT COMMENCEMENT

Gulf Park extends a cordial invitation to all alumnae to return to campus at Commencement time to renew friendships and fond memories and to enjoy the events that are planned. This year activities will begin with the May Festival on Friday evening, May 27, and run through Commencement Exercises Sunday evening, May 29. An alumnae luncheon is planned for noon on Saturday, May 28. Reservations for the luncheon should be made through Mrs. Amelia Lumpkin, Alumnae Secretary, not later than May 21.

We would like to emphasize that graduates of the high school division are urged to return with reunion groups. Reunion groups for this year are the Classes of 1926, 1931, 1936, 1941, 1946, 1951, 1956 and 1961. The Classes of 1956, both high school and college, are anxious to have a large group return this year. This would also be a good year for members of the Class of 1937 to return to campus, since Jan Clayton, '37, is to be the Commencement speaker.

REDECORATION OF HARDY HALL RECEPTION ROOM

In the December issue, we published the suggestion that the Alumnae Fund be used to refurnish and redecorate the Reception Room of Hardy Hall. A number of alumnae replied, giving definite support to the idea. Interior decorators have been consulted for suggestions and estimates. We find that we have only about half the amount that will be needed to complete the project. We need an additional $2,500. This is a project of which the alumnae could be proud. We would appreciate contributions to make this project possible.
